Goering Ends Life With Poison As Hanging Hour Nears

HERMANN GOERING

Final Words Of Ten Nazis Before Hanging

NUERNBERG, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Here, in brief, is what ten once top-flight Nazis had to say today just before the remorseless gallows of Allied justice dropped them to their doom:

Julius Streicher, arch-priest of Nazi anti-semitism, who was pronounced dead 14 minutes after his trap was sprung—"Heil Hitler."

Joachim Von Ribbentrop, foreign minister and double-crossing diplomat—"God save Germany. My last wish is that Germany realize its unity and that an understanding be reached between the east and the west. I wish peace to the world."

Field Marshal Gen. Wilhelm Keitel—"I call on God Almighty to have mercy on the German people."

Ernst Kaltenbrunner, former head of the Nazi Security Police—"I have done my duty by the laws of my people."

Alfred Rosenberg, chief of Nazi "Kultur" abroad—"I have nothing to say."

Wilhelm Frick, former Minister of the Interior—"Long live the eternal Germany."

Plan No Action Against Guard At Goering's Cell

NUERNBERG, Oct. 16.—(INS)—U. S. Security Officer Maj. Frederick Teich declared today that no action would be taken against the Goering's cell guard Hermann Goering committed suicide by swallowing poison.

He said that the guard performed his duty "faultlessly" and that Goering, who was simulating sleep, might have rolled over for a moment and slipped the vial of cyanide into his mouth.

He announced that a three-man board of investigation, headed by an impartial officer of the U. S. Third army, is investigating all circumstances surrounding the suicide and will report its findings to the Allied control council in Berlin within the next two days.

Presumably, this board is in addition to the six-man board named by Prison Commandant Col. Burton C. Andrus.

Price Control Removals To Be Speeded Up

Lifting Meat Price Control Will Result In Other De-control Moves

PORTER PREPARING TO ISSUE NEW LIST

By WILLIAM UMSTEAD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—OPA today drew up plans for the removal of price ceilings on most controlled items and some officials predicted the agency would be well on the way to liquidation by the end of November.

There were indications that controls on many items, particularly foods, would be lifted before the congressional elections on Nov. 5.

As OPA speeded up its decontrol plans, there were renewed recommendations from administration advisers for an early end to all price and wage curbs.

Recommend Removal

The reconversion office advisory board, headed by former war labor board chairman George Taylor, recommended to President Truman the removal of all controls on prices and wages "as soon as possible compatible with our economy security."

The White House said the group made the recommendation during a "routine" meeting with the president. It said the board endorsed Mr. Truman's action in decontrolling meat.

OPA officials were said to believe that the removal of controls on meat placed the agency in an untenable position in trying to maintain ceilings on other food items.

A spokesman pointed out that only about 15 percent of all food items now remain under control. He said the lifting of meat ceilings freed about 25 percent of the food products in the American diet.

Advisers Say Administration Is Committed To System Of Competitive, Free Enterprise

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—President Truman's closest advisers say today that he has committed his administration to the capitalistic system of competitive "free enterprise" while abandoning the New Deal's wartime federal controls over private industry.

The President has given notice that his administration is going to lift all price controls except those over rents and building materials.

Mr. Truman has decided also that American management and labor must revert to the collective bargaining method of settling wage controversies. This means early dissolution of the government's wage stabilization board.

Major Change

It is actually a major change in the Truman administration's official attitude toward American industry.

By LOWELL BENNETT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NUERNBERG, Oct. 16.—The American commandant of the Nuernberg jail said today he believed that the poison with which Hermann Goering cheated the gallows was passed to him by his attorney "sometime during the final session of the trial."

Col. Burton C. Andrus revealed that a six-man board was named to investigate the Reichsmarshal's suicide by cyanide poison 20 minutes after Goering's death.

He said he told the six officers to "clear this up and quick."

Can't Suspect Me, Is Claim Of Frau Goering

By GEORGE MARTIN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NUERNBERG, Oct. 16.—Frau Emmy Goering claimed between souls today that she could not be suspected of spiriting the vial of poison to her husband with which he took his own life because she was watched closely during all her visits to the Nuernberg prison.

Upon learning that Goering had committed suicide two and a half hours before his scheduled hanging, she broke down and went weeping into the nearby woods.

Her housekeeper said she believed some American friend "must have slipped him the poison and told him the hour for his execution."

Frau Goering disclosed that she had asked authorities for permission to be with her husband a final time but was refused. Then she added:

"Today, see, it was good that I was refused."

She and her daughter Edda have been living at nearby Sackdilling with the forester, Ludwig Frank. Before plunging into the woods to cry she commented to the housekeeper, Cilly Wachowiak:

"Am I glad that I cannot be suspected since I was always watched. I could not even stick a little finger through the wire-netting."

A spokesman for the group said that their aim was not only to obtain the release of all conscientious objectors still held by federal authorities, but to restore citizenship rights to those who have been released.

The spokesman estimated that there were a total of 6,000 conscientious objectors during the war and 1,200 of them are still held in federal custody.

Convicted Nazi War Leaders Pay Penalty By Death

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service European General Manager
Representing The Combined American Press

NUERNBERG, Oct. 16.—Ex-Reichsmarshal Herman Wilhelm Goering succeeded in cheating the gallows of Allied justice by committing suicide in his prison cell a short time before the 10 other condemned remnants of the Nazi hierarchy were hanged early today.

Despite the fact that an American security guard was supposed to be watching his every movement, the crown prince of Nazidom managed to place in his mouth, chew and swallow a vial containing cyanide of potassium.

The vial of poison was hidden in a copper cartridge shell.

Goering swallowed the poison while Col. S. Burton Andrus, American security commandant, was walking across the prison yard to the death row block to read to him and the 10 other condemned Nazi leaders the international military tribunal's sentence of death.

Within little more than an hour after the reading of this sentence to the condemned men in their cells Goering was scheduled to be led out to a nearby small gymnasium building in the jail yard to lead the parade of death of the Nazi political and military chieftains to the scaffold.

Goering had not previously been told that he was going to die this morning, nor had any of the other condemned men.

How he guessed that this was to be his day of doom and how he managed to conceal the poison on his person is a mystery that has confounded the security forces.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Members of the independent union of the Duquesne Light company whose walkout has virtually strangled Pittsburgh for the 23rd successive day, today signified approval of their leaders strike program when they voted overwhelmingly to remain in the union and fight the company.

The independent union polled 958 votes while the AFL United Mine Workers whose petition brought on the election, ran second with 261 ballots. The AFL Electricians received 166 votes and the CIO-Utility Workers polled 80.

The appearance of Leo T. Crowley, chairman of the Standard Gas and Electric company, parent firm of Duquesne Light, in power paralyzed Pittsburgh added significance to reports that the company may make a new offer toward settlement of the walkout.

Crowley had no comment and declined to discuss the nature of his visit to Pittsburgh.

although "they were always watched by at least two persons whenever they were together."

He added that "the lawyer and Goering kept passing over papers from the dock during the trial when it was impossible to keep as close a watch as we wished."

(Repters reported that speculation centered on whether Frau Goering passed the poison to her husband when she kissed him farewell or that a German barber may have inserted it between his collar and neck while shaving him.)

Cheated Gallows By Minutes
Goering cheated justice by a matter of minutes. He swallowed the poison while lying on a cot in his cell at 10:45 p.m. last night (4:45 p.m. Tuesday EST) just before his death sentence was to have been read to him and two hours before he was scheduled to die.

Andrus said, "The sentinel watching him through the cell door did not see him put his hand to his mouth." Goering, he added, "was dressed in pajamas with his hands above the covers" of the cot.

The sentinel saw Goering "twitching and heard him make a strange noise."

The sentinel called the corporal of the guard, who entered Goering's cell. Then the prison doctor, the chaplain and the assistant prison officer were summoned. As the latter entered the cell "he heard Goering make a throat noise, which the officer believed was the death rattle."

Andrus added that an envelope torn open at the top marked "H. Goering" contained three pencilled notes, and a brass cartridge case was found in the cell.

He said, "One of the pieces of paper appeared to be addressed to the prison governor. These documents are being translated under the supervision of the Four-Power Commission."

Andrus added, "The examination of the body reveals bits of glass in the mouth and an odor which to doctors indicates the presence of cyanide potassium."

The President's decision on price controls is limited to economic problems. It gave no hint whatever that he intends to drop the New Deal's social policies toward such subjects as old age pensions, unemployment insurance and federal aid to the unemployed.

PRICE CONTROL REMOVALS TO BE SPEEDED UP

back to the American menu moved ahead with the agriculture department's announcement that the quarantine on importation of Mexican cattle will be lifted at 12:01 a. m. EST, Friday.

A department official said that removal of the quarantine was decided upon after an investigation uncovered no danger of disease being spread by the bringing in of cattle from Mexico. President Truman revealed in his radio talk Monday that the quarantine would be lifted.

Price Administrator Porter's revised list of controlled commodities is expected soon. OPA officials said the list would be comparative-ly scanty and that the number of items now controlled would be absent.

OPA's plans for speeding up the decontrol of items are in line with President Truman's promise that price controls will be removed as rapidly as possible.

Spokesmen for the agency indicated that coffee would be decontrolled after Porter's new list is issued. The removal of bread and flour ceilings at that time appears uncertain.

Controls on consumer durable goods are expected to be retained longer than the ceilings on food items other than sugar. There has been no indication of when rent controls will be lifted. The president said rent controls would be continued "for a long time to come."

Eisenhower Now Visiting Trieste

ROME, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, American chief of staff, arrived at Trieste today to confer with Allied military leaders in that trouble spot of Europe.

Eisenhower previously had indicated he would not visit Trieste. His change of mind followed Yugoslavia's insistence, at the final session of the peace conference in Paris, that she would not sign the Italian treaty, which would make Trieste an internationalized city.

The American military chief held a conference with British Gen. William D. Morgan, Mediterranean theater commander; U. S. Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee, deputy commander for the theater; Lt. Gen. John Harding, commanding general of British troops in the area; and Major Gen. Bryant C. Moore, commander of the U. S. 88th Division.

Many Want Maids; Nobody Seeking To Employ Housemen

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—(INS)—The maid shortage is still plaguing the well-to-do housewife, but apparently nobody wants a butler or houseman.

The United States Employment Service opened an office exclusively for domestic help in Philadelphia's private homes, the first of its kind.

An average of two matrons placed a bid for every woman job applicant. But not a single person sought the services of eight men who registered for jobs as housemen.

The maids sought, and most of the housewives agreed to $20 to $25 a week as wages.

But while milady expects her maid to work up to 11 hours a day, the hired help wants to work eight—and set her own hours at that, according to Mrs. Katherine Maguire, who is in charge of the office.

And housing shortage or no housing shortage, not one of the applicants volunteered to sleep in. Fifty per cent of the employees asked for girls to live at their homes, and some offered a private bath as well as the free room.

The potential maids, who ranged from 20 to 45 years of age with the accent on 45, okayed light cleaning and light laundry as their chores.

Only one of two thought it was worth $25 a week plus room and board to cook too.

Mrs. Maguire said most of the applicants had held war jobs.

Five hundred geological expeditions in the Soviet Union this year have discovered iron ore deposits estimated at more than 1,000,000,000 tons.

Guard Units To Meet At Armory

Second Meeting In Fall Recruiting Program Will Take Place At Armory This Evening

Officers and enlisted men of Headquarters Battery and Service Battalion of the 229th Field Artillery Battalion will have their second meeting in the fall recruiting program at The Armory, near Cascade Park, this evening at 8 o'clock.

Lt. Col. George F. Mitchell, the commanding officer, stated today that there are still a few good ratings left for men who are qualified, and they are invited to attend tonight's meeting and talk over the proposition with the battalion officers.

City Mission Among Chest's Agencies

Along with the other agencies cooperating in the Community Chest campaign, the City Rescue Mission has as its purpose assisting anyone in need, spiritually, physically and mentally.

When a transient comes to the mission for a night's lodging, he is given a shower, his clothing is fumigated, he gets a clean bed to sleep in, he eats a hot meal, and if necessary he gets a change of clothing.

This year, 1,718 meals have been served and 703 persons have been given a place to sleep. Furniture and clothing have been distributed to 458 other persons. At Christmas-time, grocery orders and toys are provided for those in need, and unemployed are given assistance in hunting jobs.

The mission's motto is "Forever helping others"—salvaging human wreckage, mending broken hearts, lessening the amount of child delinquency and building character.

The department said 322 more persons were killed compared with the same period of 1945, an increase of 43.2 per cent.

Sulphur Run To Be Restored

Neshannock Township Case Is Concluded In Law- rence County Court

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Finish has been written to the "Saga of Sulphur Run." The second chapter is the last chapter and the little brook will now be returned to its former home, flowing peacefully, if somewhat erratically into the Shenango river.

On Tuesday a consent decree was arrived at in the case of Ethel P. Ludwig and others of Neshannock township versus J. Roy Shaffer, James E. Hinrich, George M. Marquis and Carl A. Anderson. The equity suit was brought when the defendants diverted the flow of Sulphur Run from the original water course to a pond on their property and then out on a course that took it to the Neshannock river.

Dry Township
While Neshannock township is dry, the folks who live along Sulphur Run thought that was carrying prohibition too far and took legal action. They asked that the defendants be restrained from diverting the water and that they be ordered to restore it to its original course.

Counsel for the defendants appeared and agreed to a consent decree. In the decree Judge W. Walter Brahm ordered the defendants to take out conduits which had been used to divert the run and enjoined them from diverting the water at any future date.

The book is closed and Sulphur Run can settle back to another century or so of anonymity secure in the knowledge that the sovereign commonwealth of Pennsylvania will not permit its being kicked out of bed again.

NO JURY NEXT WEEK

Notices have been mailed to jurors who had been called for next week notifying them their services will not be needed. Notices to the same effect have been mailed to jurors who had been called for the week of November 2. The jury court list is clear, the last case going to the jury Tuesday afternoon.

FINED FOR MISSING

Unusual for the Lawrence county courts, a juror who failed to appear and a witness who likewise failed to appear were fined by Judge W. Walter Brahm. The juror, a woman, said she had understood a reminder would be sent her and that she had forgotten about her date with the law.

REPUBLICAN DOUBLE TALK

In yesterday's edition of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, Louis E. Graham incumbent Congressman from Beaver, Butler and Lawrence Counties is quoted as saying, "I have voted for all war measures and all measures for veterans."

LET US LOOK AT THE RECORD!

Although Congressman Graham may, the record does not lie!

1. Feb. 23, 1939—Voted against appropriation to fortify Island of Guam;
2. June 22, 1939—Voted to cut 1283 airplanes and $37,000,000 from Army Appropriation Bill;
3. Sept. 7, 1940—Voted against Conscription Bill;
4. Feb. 8, 1941—Voted against Lend Lease—designed to arm our allies;
5. May 7, 1940—Voted not to seize German vessels interned in American ports;
6. Jan. 25, 1944—Voted against United Nations Relief Program;
7. Feb. 3, 1944—Voted against the National Simplified Soldiers Ballot;
8. Aug. 12, 1941—Voted against eighteen month extension of military service. (Passed by narrow margin of one vote).

If Hitler himself had sent an agent to America to sit in Congress he could not have more effectively sabotaged the preparedness program than Louis E. Graham did when he choose to ignore the welfare of all America to play petty partisan politics.

On Nov. 5 the voters have an opportunity to vote against this man who has voted so many times against them by voting for Sam G. Neff.

A VOTE FOR NEFF IS A VOTE AGAINST INTOLERANCE—BIGOTRY—BILBOISM.

Constable Is Given Sentence

Charles L. Reese Given
Court Sentence Today
On Charge Of Extortion

Charles L. Reese, 405 South Walnut street, constable of the third ward, was sentenced today by Judge W. Walter Braham to pay a fine of $200 and costs and undergo imprisonment in the Allegheny county workhouse for six months upon a charge of extortion. Mr. Reese resigned his commission as constable a short time before sentence was passed.

Mr. Reese was arrested late Tuesday afternoon by County Detective Charles D. Ross up on information furnished him by Ernest Pokersnik of Sharpe street, eighth ward. This information was that Mr. Reese had taken $200 from Pokersnik for the purported purpose of making it easier for Pokersnik, who was under a charge of larceny and receiving stolen goods.

Aided In Arrest
Pokersnik was arrested May 7, 1946, for the theft of materials from the Pennsylvania railroad in Bessemer. Constable Reese assisted in the arrest and in the search of Pokersnik's home.

While he was on bail, Pokersnik told District Attorney Leroy K. Donaldson Tuesday, that Reese came to his home and said that for $200 he could be of service in getting him leniency on the charge.

Pokersnik says he paid the $200 and pleaded guilty to the charge June 3. On June 14 Pokersnik was sentenced to pay a fine of $50, costs amounting to $45.00 and given four to eight months in the county jail. On August 9 he was paroled.

When he was arrested Tuesday afternoon and taken to the office of the district attorney, Mr. Reese confessed to the charge. Mr. Donaldson says, and this morning he was arraigned before Alderman L. Claude Mantz. There he waived a hearing and was taken back up to the court house, where he pleaded guilty. At 10:30 Judge Braham passed sentence.

Mr. Reese was appointed constable on February 14, 1946, to fill the five-year term of Jess C. Kennedy, who was elected and is now serving as alderman of the third ward.

No Compensation For Workers Not Braving Pickets

HARRISBURG, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Immediate compensation for employees refusing to cross picket lines to accept "available work" because of union sympathy was denied today by the unemployment compensation board of review.

Deputy Attorney General David R. Perry board counsel, said the decision was returned in the case 24 employees of Ticon, Inc., at Meadville. The ruling re-emphasized that the workers would have to serve a four week penalty period plus the regular one week.

He explained that the workers, affiliated with various locals of the American Federation of Labor, failed to cross picket lines thrown up by the striking AFL-Tool Makers Union.

The Zapper Manufacturing Company, Perry said, contended that the plant was open for the non-striking workers but that they refused to cross the picket lines.

The board of review, Perry asserted, denied eligibility for compensation on the inference that there was no force or violence used by the pickets to restrain the workers from crossing the lines to accept available employment and thus they became part and parcel of an industrial dispute.

The board ruled that the decision affecting only those employees appealing an original decision.

Response Termed 'Splendid' In Magazine Drive

Amount Of Old Magazines Collected Tuesday Far Exceeds Expectations

In the drive for the benefit of the Community Rose Garden to continue every day this week, collections of old magazines Tuesday from public schools far exceeded the expectations of the Lawrence County Garden committee in charge, a committee spokesman said today.

"The response was splendid—far better than we had hoped for," he said.

There will be an ingathering of old magazines Thursday in parochial schools for the Community Rose Garden benefit, and the committee anticipates an enthusiastic response to this community project.

For residents who wish to take magazines to the collection depot, it is located in the New Castle store warehouse on South Croton avenue, and will be open to receive the magazines every day this week from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Seek Rooms For Delegates To Convention Here

This is an appeal for aid from the citizens of New Castle. Rooms are needed for delegates to the convention of the American Society of Training Directors which opens in The Castleton hotel Thursday morning.

The convention was shifted to New Castle from Pittsburgh due to the strikebound conditions in that city. Hotels within a radius of 25 miles were to house part of the estimated crowd of 300 but this arrangement has fallen through.

Joseph J. O'Brien, manager of The Castleton wants to house delegates in private homes and today asked that all householders who are willing to rent a room to a delegate call him at the hotel 5600.

All that is needed is rooms. A fee of $1.50 will be paid for each person and no breakfast. It is a last minute call, made necessary by conditions. If you have a room you can spare, call Mr. O'Brien and tell him so right now.

Veterans Fight To Buy Planes

Claim Purchases Could Not Be Made Despite Priorities
Made By Congress

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Counsel for several air force veterans charged today before the House Surplus Property committee that ex-servicemen were unable to purchase wartime surplus planes despite priorities established by Congress.

John W. Iliff, Washington attorney, asserted that an order issued by the Civilian Production Administration directed the War Assets Administration to turn over C-54 planes to commercial airlines violated "the intent of Congress."

Iliff, appearing for the veterans, termed the CPA directive "a fraud upon these veterans and a strengthening of monopolistic control." He told the committee he represented Ralph Cox Jr., Roosevelt Field, N. Y.; George Tompkins, San Francisco and several other veterans.

Appeal Decision

The veterans have appealed a decision of a U. S. district court denying their request for an injunction to prevent the WAA from turning the planes over to commercial airlines. The veterans desire to purchase the planes to establish their own airlines.

The committee invited the veterans to state their case after they complained that the Civilian Production Administration had blocked them from purchasing C-54s from the War Assets Administration.

The veterans had sought to purchase the four-engine planes to start private airlines. Committee Counsel Hugh Wise stated that the CPA issued a directive, however, to the WAA to deliver the planes to certain established airlines.

The veterans, who had been acting individually, banded together, according to Wise, and petitioned U. S. district court in Washington for an injunction to enjoin War Assets administrator Robert M. Littlejohn from selling the planes to the airlines.

Wise said the court dismissed the injunction plea upon a motion by government counsel that the action was in effect a suit against the government and was therefore not legal.

Wise said the veterans then appealed to the committee, headed by Rep. Slaughter (D-Mo., chairman, for a hearing.

Claims Japanese Aims Are Aligned With Allies Views

TOKYO, Oct. 16.—(INS)—The United States officially went on record today with the declaration that the "Time has come when Japanese aims have become identical with those of the Allies."

Ambassador George Acheson, Jr., made the declaration for the United States at an Allied Control Council meeting.

Great Britain's representative W. MacMahon Ball immediately objected and declared:

"I can not identify myself with the attitude you have expressed."

Acheson made his statement in reply to Russian criticism of the April tenth Japanese elections. The Russian representative, Lieut. Gen. Kuzma Derevyanko, recommended that forthcoming local elections in November be more closely controlled.

Acheson, in discussing the matter, said the Four-Power Council should praise as well as criticize the Japanese government's efforts.

MacMahon Ball noted at this point to remark: "I have noticed in the last few months that whenever any member of this council made a statement which might have been construed as criticism of the Japanese government, the United States member has been quick to defend the Japanese."

When a Capetown, South Africa, soldier back from Italy landed at Pretoria and wired his family "Am back for 28 days, kill fatted calf. Do you want anything from the Transvaal?" his father wired back "Bring fatted calf."

IN THE OPEN

Somebody hereabouts owns a coon dog with a remarkable baritone voice. In company with other hounds of lesser attainment this four-legged nightingale stages a concert every so often, using the wooded hillside right across the valley from our open bedroom windows as his sounding board. The hunters who course these dogs must sleep all day, for they never show up until the small hours of the morning.

Every man who loves the outdoors has a great fondness for the belling of a hard running hound. Under the right conditions it is quite enjoyable to lean back against a broad tree trunk and listen to the good night music of a pack giving tongue in full voice on a red hot trail. It is quite a different story to be shocked full awake at 3 a. m. by a banshee howl that shudders up and down the valley for many miles.

Should Call Him Bing

Whoever owns this dog should certainly call him Bing. For in my book he is far and away the champion canine crooner of the countryside. His singing fascinated us the first night he came on stage on the hillside across the creek. Since then we have lost many hours of good slumber while he broadcasted bulletins of the chase. He is a prima donna, talented, temperamental, and very very loud.

Another hound, perhaps a member of this musical coterie, played a heart-wrenching role in a recent midnight tragedy in the valley. We had heard the dogs during the night, but aside from the fact that one voice seemed to come from a fixed location, noted nothing unusual. During the busy daylight hours this dog probably cried often, but our ears were not attuned.

Heard Voice Again

The next night we heard the single voice again. We mistakenly thought the hound was baying a quarry or perhaps a fox run to earth. All night long this voice cried at intervals and we remarked at the persistence of the hunter. Another day went by and again during the night that poignant cry came at times from somewhere across the valley. By this time we knew that something was wrong and that a lone dog was in trouble somewhere out there in the night.

The next afternoon we made the first search for this dog. The voice seemed to be coming from a point halfway up the steep hillside across the creek some few hundred yards behind the house. Acoustics in the valley are quite tricky and we were not too certain that the mournful baying was not the echoed voice of a hound tied out on the neighboring farm. We parked the car and walked down the railroad right-of-way between the hillside and the creek.

All the time that we were in the area there was not a single peep from the dog we were seeking. The farm hound bayed several times and we finally gave up and went home, convinced that we had been tricked by an echo. No sooner had we put away the car than the crying came again, definitely from a point somewhere out there below the house. We lined up the sound with some tall landmarks and established the locale for another combing of the brush-tangled hillside.

Next morning we forsook Sunday school and church in the hope of finding the trapped dog and relieving his evident agony. By a drive and none too good roadway we drove clear to the top of the far hill and established a line on our landmarks. Here we spread out some 20 yards apart and drove straight down to the creek. The going was easy and the woods so open we could not have missed the quarry. Again the trapped dog ceased baying and we were apparently defeated.

Finally Located

We set out for a short hike in the October sunlight along the path skirting the base of the hillside. Suddenly the cry came again, this time definitely close by and apparently across on our home side of the creek. I plunged into the creek-side tangles and finally reached the bark of the stream. I could now hear the dog whining and closed in, finally noting some commotion in the thickets across the water.

There is a shallow rip where the stream makes a wide bend at this point. I splashed through this and soon to the poor animal, hung up in the wire fence edging a corn field not two hundred yards from our back door. A short stub of wire, extending an inch or so from a main stay near the cross wire, had pinned the hound's hind leg at the knee joint. In struggling to escape the dog had broken this leg in a compound fracture. The ground about was sadly scarred by his pitiful efforts to escape.

There was only one thing to do and we did it as quickly and as humanely as possible. The black and tan fellow will hunt no more across the hills with his pals. We gave him the decent burial a good hunting dog deserves. His collar carried no license, so we will never know his name. Perhaps he has come to a happier hunting ground where there are no wire fences to halt an eager hunter.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Funnymen Red Skelton is planning some helicopter commuting.

"What I'd like to do as soon as I can is to buy a game preserve in some isolated spot, where I could hunt in peace and have a quick way of getting to the studio," Red said. "A helicopter would be the best means of transportation."

"I didn't even know you could fly," your reporter put in.

"I can't, but I can learn, can't I?" Red replied.

Red divulged his plans as he was winding up his latest M-G-M starring, "Merton of the Movies." He was getting ready to be flown into the mountain country back of Bishop, Cal., 300 miles from the film capital, for four days of hunting.

"That's all the time I can take now. I wish it were more," Red said. "I like to hunt."

One of his co-workers broke in: "Why Red, I never knew you did any real hunting. I thought you just went into the woods to shoot pictures."

"Me?" Red ejaculated. "What are you talking about. I'm a first class hunter."

"Obviously you never heard about my experience last year. I was out hunting antelope. I was way up on the side of a hill when I suddenly looked way down and there, 250 yards away, was a beautiful animal. "I had a 30-30. I took careful aim and fired. At first I thought I had missed him. One of the other fellows in the party heard the shot, ran up and offered me a heavier gun. He thought I had missed, too, but I hadn't. The animal staggered a few feet and fell over."

It's funny the things a Hollywood reporter can mull over in his mind.

as he watches them make movies. Like on the set of "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now" at 20th Century-Fox.

Just prior to leaving for New York City, June Haver was singing the title number of the picture.

She was in Madame Dubarry costume with a heavily re-enforced skirt eight feet in diameter.

Your reporter kept wondering how in the world June could ever sit down.

Then the problem was solved. A lady-in-waiting came over with a stool. She lifted June's skirt daintily and pushed the stool underneath.

The average U. S. resident borrows fewer than three library books a year from public libraries.

Machinists Provide Expensive Treatment

Machine Shop Men At United Engineering Co. Aid Wife Of Fellow Employee

Every now and then something happens that restores our faith in human nature and makes us proud of the human race. One of those occurrences has happened in the machine shop of the United Engineering & Foundry company, which seems to prove that the milk of human kindness might be a product of a machine shop.

The wife of one of the machinists has been desperately ill with tuberculosis. The machinist had spent practically everything he had in an effort to recapture his wife's health, but to no avail.

It was suggested that streptomycin be tried but the newly discovered drug is as yet expensive. The men of Local 1671, International Association of Machinists, got together and decided that if streptomycin would help, their brother machinist's wife should have it.

The treatment with the new drug cost about $100 per day but the money was provided. Today the lady's temperature is down to normal and for the time the treatment is suspended. She is now being built up for an operation later in the fall.

It is possible, through the wonder drug that her health may be restored. And if it is, as the men of the shop hope, no one will be happier than the machinists who gave a brother a helping hand.

PLAN YOUR FARM BUILDINGS TO SAVE WORK

When any building or remodeling is planned, think how the final results will affect your work.

When Albert McConnell, North Beaver Township studied the work required to care for his cattle, he found that he was making useless trips to the second floor for grain. By joining a steel bin from the floor joists so that it could be filled from the second floor, he saved several steps each day, as well as some heavy lifting.

Mr. McConnell also found that the use of feed and silage carts could save him many steps each day. Wide feed alleys and a walk-way across each end of the barn are essential if chores are to be done with the least effort.

323rd F. A. Group To Have Reunion

Plans have been announced by Roy J. Barnes, president of the 323rd Light Field Artillery Regiment for the 20th annual reunion, which will take place in the Biograph Hotel, Beaver Falls, on October 18 and 19.

Friday evening, the regiment will march in a body to Reeves stadium to see the football game between Farrell and Beaver Falls high schools, and afterwards will meet at the new American Legion Home, for a program of entertainment.

The business meeting when officers will be elected will take place on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The banquet will take place at 7 o'clock Saturday evening, in the ball room of the hotel. Major H. N. Arner, veteran of both wars, will be the main speaker.

A number of Lawrence county men served with the 323rd outfit in World War one.

Declares War Must Now Be Outlawed

NEW YORK, Oct. 16—(INS)—Lt. Gen. Harold L. George, new American delegate to the United Nations Military Staff committee, said that the United Nations is the only agency left on earth which offers hope of peace.

He warned that weapons "now on the drawing board" will leave the world without a single spot so remote as to offer refuge from another war.

"If civilization doesn't outlaw war, then war is going to put civilization out of business," the former head of the air transport command said.

"The military staff committee has got to be made to work."

Army Recruiting Passes Million

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16—(INS)—The Army announced Tuesday that its recruiting campaign has passed the one million mark.

In a brief ceremony Friday, Secretary of War Patterson will greet Cpl. Irving T. Bennett Jr. of Baltimore, as a representative of the first million men to volunteer.

The goal on one million volunteers was reached October 7.

Army officials pointed out, however, that an average of 40,000 men a month is needed to keep the Army at required strength. If enlistments fall, draft calls will be resumed.

Hoboken Officials Under Indictment

HOBOKEN, N. J., Oct. 16—(INS)—Mayor Bernard N. McPeely and ten other Hoboken officials were indicted by the Hudson County, N. J., grand jury on charges of conspiracy to oppress police department members.

The alleged victims of the conspiracy are members of a faction which has been campaigning for improvements in Hoboken police working conditions.

Besides the Egyptian pyramids, other forms of the pyramid are found in Greece, Italy, Mexico, China, India and Assyria.

FBI Rounds Up Hi-Jack Combine

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16—(INS)—The FBI office Tuesday announced the round-up of a hi-jacking combine believe to have stolen a truckload of $30,000 worth of woollens in Lenni, Delaware county, on October 2.

L. V. Boardman, FBI agent-in-charge, said the arrests of six men in the case were made by the state police, Delaware county detectives and federal agents.

The suspects were identified as Edward Scheinkofer, 29; Louis Factor, 36; Harry Jerome, 30; Meyer Ingelman, 38; Dora Ingelman, Ingelman's sister-in-law, and Albert Lieberman, all of Philadelphia.

The truck and trailer containing the woollens were driven off by two robbers who forced the driver from the truck just outside the York-Shire worsted mills in Lenni. The driver was bound hand and foot while the bandits escaped.

Atom Bomb Force Now Mere Skeleton

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16—(INS)—The greatest peacetime United States military and naval unit ever assembled for one purpose—task force one—has dwindled today to one-sixteenth of its peak strength, three months after the Bikini atom bombings.

At its peak Vice Admiral W. H. P. Blandy's force for "operation crossroads" numbered more than 42,000 persons. Last week the strength of the unit was 473 officers and 2,134 enlisted men. Strength is being reduced at the rate of about 500 a week.

A "crossroads" spokesman said that those who remain were chiefly concerned with administrative work, caring for targets and other vessels that might have suffered from radioactivity, writing technical reports and gathering data.

The "crossroads" evaluation board said a report probably would be rendered to the joint chiefs of staff "in several months" but less than a year after the Bikini blasts.

Other research, however, will go on for years. Notably is the medical study of animals that lived through the atomic explosions. The spokesman said that this work, at present conducted by the naval research center at Bethesda, Md., will go on "for generations" of the animals.

U. S. Delegates Leaving Parley

PARIS, Oct. 16—(INS)—Sen. Tom Connally, Democratic congressional member of the U. S. delegation to the peace conference, left Paris Tuesday and will be followed today by other American delegates.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes is to leave aboard President Truman's private plane—The Sacred Cow—at 2 p. m. today, he will be accompanied by Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, Connally's Republican counter-part.

The Sacred Cow is expected to arrive at Washington at 9 a. m. EST Thursday. American delegation sources said President Truman plans to welcome Byrnes and his aides when they arrive at Washington's National Airport.

Connally is returning aboard the British luxury liner Queen Elizabeth, and he left the French capital for London prior to his embarkation for New York.

Not Contributing Political Funds NAM Announces

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(INS)—The National Association of Manufacturers advised the House campaign committee Tuesday that "not a penny" of its $4,700,000 budget for 1946 is allotted for political purposes.

Walter B. Weisenburger, executive vice president of the NAM, told the House investigators: "We are a law-abiding organization. We are not taking part in partisan political campaigns."

Weisenburger explained that NAM's purpose is to "advance the interests of industry" through a broad educational program which he said is "not political."

"We do not support nor try to defeat candidates, either directly or indirectly," Weisenburger testified. "Earlier the American Federation of Labor told the committee that it has no money ' earmarked for political purposes' but is forming AFL state political committees which will finance themselves."

AFL Make Report

Lewis G. Hines, legislative representative of the AFL, testified that his labor organization makes "no political expenditure" other than salaries of employees who compile voting records of congressmen.

Hines said these seven million AFL members "with the suggestion that they follow the time-honored policy laid down by Samuel Gompers—that we reward our friends and defeat our enemies."

Hines said that some state AFL units have political committees and that the national headquarters "right now is doing quite a bit of urging" to promote such local political units.

Nurses Meeting At Harrisburg

Approximately 750 State Nurses Are Gathered At Annual Convention Sessions

HARRISBURG, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Approximately 750 Pennsylvania nurses opened their 42nd annual convention at Harrisburg today to consider improved working conditions for members of their profession.

Possible delegation of their statewide organization, the Pennsylvania State Nurses' Association, as a bargaining agent for better working hours, wages and standards was slated to be put to a vote during the initial session.

The decision, according to Mrs. Katherine Miller, secretary, will highlight the conference, since it will determine future working conditions for the nursing profession in Pennsylvania.

Sub-committees were expected to submit resolutions including a recommendation urging state certification of practical nurses to protect patients and registered nurses from misrepresentation, Mrs. Miller stated.

Officers were scheduled to be elected tomorrow. Candidates have been slated but nominations will be received from the floor during this morning's session.

Convicted Nazi War Leaders Pay Penalty By Death

natively to execute the condemned man while the third was kept in reserve.

After a quick glance at the gallows, Streicher glared around the room, his eyes resting momentarily upon the small group of American, British, French and Russian officers on hand to witness the execution.

By this time, Streicher's hands were tied securely behind his back. Two guards, one on each arm, directed him to number one gallows on the left entrance. He walked steadily the six feet to the first wooden step but his face was twitching nervously. As the guards stopped him at the bottom of the steps for official identification requests he uttered his piercing scream: "Heil Hitler!"

His shriek sent a shiver down the back of the International News Service correspondent who was witnessing the executions as sole representative of the American press.

As he eddied away another American colonel standing by the steps said disparagingly: "Ask the man his name." In response to the interpreter's query Streicher shouted: "You know my name well."

The interpreter repeated his request and the condemned man yelled: "Julius Streicher."

Pushed To Noose

As he mounted to the platform Streicher cried out: "Now it goes to God" and after getting up the thirteen steps to the eight-foot high and eight-foot square black-painted wooden platform Streicher was pushed two steps to the mortal spot beneath the hangman's rope.

This was suspended from an iron ring attached to a cross beam which rested on two posts. The rope was being held back against a wooden rail by the American army sergeant hangman who already had carried out more than 200 executions but whose name was not revealed at present.

Streicher was swung around to face toward the front.

He glared again at the Allied officers and the eight Allied correspondents representing the world's press who were lined up against a wall behind small tables directly facing the gallows.

With burning hatred in his eyes Streicher looked down upon the witnesses and they screamed: "Purim fest 1946."

(Purim is a Jewish holiday celebrated in the spring.)

The American officer standing at the scaffold said:

"Ask the man if he has any last words."

When the interpreter had translated, Streicher shouted:

"The Bolsheviks will hang you one day."

It was originally intended to permit the condemned to walk the 70-odd yards from the cells to the execution chamber with their hands free, but they were all manacled in their cells immediately following the discovery of Goebbels' suicide.

The weasel-faced Ribbentrop in his last appearance before mankind uttered his final words while waiting for the black hood to be placed over his head. Loudly, in firm tones, he said:

"God save Germany."

He added:

"My last wish is that Germany realize its enmity and that an understanding be reached between the East and West. I wish peace to the world."

The ex-diplomat looked straight ahead as the hood was adjusted before the trap was sprung. His lips were set tight.

Follows Von Ribbentrop

Next in line to follow Ribbentrop to the gallows was Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, symbol of Prussian militarism and aristocracy.

Here came the first military leader to be executed under the new concept of Allied international law—the principle that professional soldiers cannot escape justice for waging aggressive wars against humanity by claiming they were merely carrying out orders of their superiors.

Keitel entered the death arena at 1:18, only two minutes after the trap was dropped beneath Ribbentrop and while the latter was still lurching at the end of his rope.

The field marshal could not, of course, see the ex-foreign minister whose body was concealed within the first scaffold and whose rope still hung taut.

Keitel did not appear as tense as Ribbentrop. He held his head high while his hands were being tied, and walked with military bearing to the foot of the second scaffold although a guard on each side held his arms.

When asked his name he answered in a loud sharp tone, "Wilhelm Keitel." He mounted the gallows steps as he might have climbed to a reviewing stand to take a salute of the German army. He certainly did not appear in need of the guards' help.

When turned around at the top of the platform, Keitel looked over the crowd with traditional iron-jawed haughtiness of the proud Prussian officer. When asked if he had anything to say he looked straight ahead and speaking in a loud voice said:

"I call on God Almighty to have mercy on the German people. More than two million German soldiers went to their deaths for the Fatherland. I follow now my sons."

Shows Courage

Then, while raising his voice to shout "All for Germany," Keitel's black-booted, uniformed body plunged down with a bang. Observers agreed he had showed more courage on the scaffold than he had in the courtroom where he tried to hide his guilt behind Hitler's ghost.

Then he claimed that it was all the father's fault, that he merely carried out orders and had no responsibility.

This despite the fact that documentary evidence presented during the trial showed he "approved and backed" measures for branding Russian prisoners of war, directed "Draconian measures" to terrorize the Russian people into submission and issued secret orders for invasion of Poland five months before the attack took place.

With both Ribbentrop and Keitel hanging at the end of their ropes there was a pause in the grim proceedings.

Officers and GIs walked around nervously or spoke a few words to one another in hushed voices while Allied correspondents scribbled furiously their notes on this historic though ghastly event.

In a few minutes an American army doctor accompanied by a Russian army doctor and both carrying stethoscopes walked to the first scaffold, lifted the curtain and disappeared within.

They emerged at 1:30 a.m. and spoke to a short, heavy-set American colonel wearing combat boots. The colonel swung around and facing officials witnesses snapped to attention to say:

"The man is dead."

Ropes Are Cut

Two GIs quickly appeared with a stretcher which was carried up and lifted into the interior of the scaffold. The hangman, a sergeant, mounted the gallows steps, took a large command-type knife out of a sheath strapped to his side and cut the rope.

Ribbentrop's limp body with the black hood still over his head was speedily removed to the far end of the room and placed behind a black canvas curtain. This all had taken less than ten minutes.

The directing colonel turned to the witnesses and said: "Citizens, out please, gentlemen," and then addressing another colonel he called "Norman" said "okay." The latter went out the door and over to the condemned block to fetch the next man.

This creature was Ernst Kaltenbrunner, Gestapo chief and director of the greatest mass murders Europe has known since the dark ages.

Kaltenbrunner, master killer of Nazism, entered the execution chamber at 1:36 a.m., wearing a sweater beneath his blue double-breasted coat. With his lean haggard face furrowed by old gnawing scars, this terrible successor to Reinhard Heydrich had a frightening look as he glanced around the room.

He was nervous and he wet his lips as he turned to mount the gallows but he walked steadily. He answered his name in a calm, low voice.

When he turned around on the gallows platform he first faced a United States Catholic army chaplain attired in a Franciscan habit.

Kaltenbrunner was asked for his last words and answered quietly:

"I would like to say a word."

"I have loved my German people and my Fatherland with a warm heart."

"I have done my duty by the laws of my people and I am sorry my people were led this time by men who were not soldiers and that crimes were committed of which I had no knowledge."

This sounded like strange talk from a man, one of whose agents—a man named Rudolf Hoess—confessed at a previous trial that under Kaltenbrunner's orders he gassed three million human beings at the Auschwitz concentration camp.

As the black hood was about to be placed over his head Kaltenbrunner, still speaking in a low calm voice, used a German phrase which translated means: "Germany, good luck."

His trap was sprung at 1:39 a.m. The scaffold was made ready for Alfred Rosenberg, master mind behind the Nazi racial theories who sought to establish Nazism as a Pagan religion.

Rosenberg Is Next

Rosenberg was dull and sunken-cheeked as he looked around the court. His complexion was pasty-brown, but he did not appear nervous and walked with a steady step to and up the gallows.

Apart from giving his name and replying "no" to a question as to whether he had anything to say, this athlete did not utter a word. Despite his disability in God he was accompanied by a Protestant chaplain who followed him to the gallows and stood beside him praying.

Rosenberg looked at the chaplain once but said nothing. Ninety seconds after he entered the execution hall he was swinging from the end of a hangman's rope. His was the swiftest execution of any of those condemned.

Hans Frank, the gauleiter of Poland and former SS general, was next in the parade of death. He was the only one of the condemned to enter the chamber with a smile on his lips.

Although nervous and swallowing frequently this man, who was converted to Catholicism after his arrest, gave the appearance of being relieved at the prospect of atoning for his evil deeds.

He answered his name quietly and when asked on the platform if he had any last statement replied in a low voice that was almost a whisper:

"I am thankful for the kind treatment during my captivity and I ask God to accept me with mercy."

Frank then closed his eyes and swallowed again as the black hood went over his head.

The sixth man to leave his prison cell and walk with handcuffed wrists across the corner of the small yard separating the condemned block from the death house was 69-year-old Wilhelm Frick, former Nazi minister of the interior.

Least Steady

He entered the execution chamber at five and one-half minutes after two, six and a half minutes after Rosenberg had been pronounced dead. He seemed to be the least steady of any so far and stumbled on the thirteenth step of the gallows. His only words were "Long live eternal Germany" before he was hooded and dropped through the trap.

Following Streicher's melodramatic exit and removal of Frick's corpse after he was pronounced dead at 2:20 a.m., Fritz Sauckel, the slave labor director and one of the worst of the blood-stained men of Nazism, was brought in to face his doom.

Wearing a sweater with no coat and looking wild-eyed, Sauckel proved to be the most delirious of any except Streicher.

Here was the man who drove millions into a land of bondage on a scale unknown since the pre-Christian era. Gazing around the room from the gallows platform he suddenly screamed:

"I am dying innocent. The sentence is wrong. God protect Germany and make Germany great again. Long live Germany! God protect my family!"

The trap was sprung at 2:26 a.m. and like Streicher this hatred-filled man groaned loudly as the fatal noose snapped tightly under the weight of his body.

Ninth to come was Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl, Hitler's strategic adviser and close friend. With the black coat-collar of his Wehrmacht uniform half turned up at the back as though hurriedly put on, Jodl entered the dismal death house with obvious signs of nervousness.

Last Six Words

He wet his lips constantly and his features were drawn and haggard as he walked forward, not nearly so steady as Keitel in mounting the gallows. Yet his voice was calm when he uttered his last six words on earth:

"My greetings to you, my Germany."

At 2:34 a.m. Jodl plunged into the black hole of the scaffold's death. He and Sauckel hung together in that execution chamber until the latter was pronounced dead six minutes later and removed.

The Czechoslovak-born Sevs-Inquart was the last actor to make his appearance in this ghastly scene of Allied justice. He entered the chamber at 2:38 a.m., wearing the glasses which made his face a familiar and despised figure in all the years he ruled Holland with an iron hand and sent thousands of Dutchmen to Germany for forced labor.

Sevs-Inquart looked around with noticeable signs of unsteadiness and limped on his left club foot as he walked to the gallows. He mounted the steps slowly, with hands helping him on his way.

When Sevs-Inquart spoke his last words, his voice was low but intense. He said:

"I hope that this execution is the last act of the tragedy of the second world war and that the lesson taken from this world war will be that peace and understanding should exist between peoples."

"I believe in Germany"

St. Louis Cardinals 1946 World's Series Champions

Harry Brecheen Hero In Relief Role Wins Third Series Victory

Cardinals Win 4 To 3 Over Favored Boston Red Sox Slugger In Seventh Game

Enos (Country) Slaughter Races Home With Winning Run In Eighth Inning

By LAWTON ARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 16.—If there is one thing that will persevere on the American scene it is our respect and admiration for an underdog who comes through in the clutch.

We understood each thing because we started out as an underdog nation and the record (history) books will show that we did pretty well.

That is why today the St. Louis Cardinals are a little more than baseball champions. What they did yesterday to the top-heavy Boston Red Sox is something that every American can appreciate and love. They couldn't win, but they did.

Two minutes after the Cardinals had carried Harry (The Cat) Brecheen off the mound on their shoulders—4 to 3 victor in the final game of the 1946 World Series—Ford Frick, otherwise dignified president of the National League, threw his arms around the slim southpaw and said:

"That was a great performance, Cat."

Conversations with Brecheen Joins Immortals

The man who moves like a cat looked at the president, as many a cat is said to have looked at a king, and said:

"It was kind of rough, Mr. Frick. The only trouble was that there weren't enough innings left. I was just setting my stuff when I won the ball game. The only thing that could've stopped me would've been darkness."

By winning yesterday's ultimate struggle at Sportsman's Park, Brecheen joined nine other hurlers who have managed to win three games in a World Series. It is not a common feat. He is the first man to turn the trick since Stanley Coveleski achieved it for the Cleveland Indians against Brooklyn in 1920.

He is the first National League pitcher to do it since Babe Adams beat Ty Cobb and the other Tigers for Pittsburgh in 1909.

Slaughter Feels Them

The general opinion is that the two games of the final game were Leon Culberson and Johnny Pesky, who were slugging in their hands in the eighth of which the great Enos Slaughter scored from first base.

Maybe so. It seems to me that it was a case of a smarter ball club taking advantage of a brief lapse—as only great clubs can come through in the clutch. Nine ball players, on the radio, said: "The best team won."

I'd like to take exceptions to that. The better team won.

Whitman Heads Tri-County AA

New Wilmington High Principal To Head Organization For 1946-47 Season

MERCER HIGH IS JOINING GROUP

Tri-County Athletic Association met Tuesday evening at Portersville. A total of 24 principals, coaches and athletic directors were present. All nine schools members of the conference were represented.

Mercer high, a non-member, was also in attendance. The latter school simplified its desire to join the conference, and to compete for the football championship in 1947. The school has met Shenango this year and is scheduled to meet Bessemer and Union this year.

Whitman President
Principal Walt Whitman of New Wilmington high school was elected president of the group, taking the place of Milton Patterson, former principal of Union township, who died the position previously. Chandler B. McMillan, principal of Bessemer high, is secretary-treasurer.

The Tri-County Conference has annually sponsored a football league, basketball tournament and a track meet. Last night, the members agreed to sponsor basketball next spring. It was also agreed to stage a number of informal volleyball games.

State Expecting Crowd Saturday

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 16.—(INS)—A sellout crowd of 20,000 spectators was expected today by Pennsylvania State College to attend Saturday's homecoming game with Michigan State on Beaver Field.

Lions Will Give New Castle Hard Battle On Friday

Erie Academy Bringing Speedy Team Here For Game At Stadium This Week

LINEUP CHANGES ARE POSSIBILITY

Erie Academy High's speedy grid-ders dubbed the Lions, will give New Castle a rough evening at the stadium Friday. It was indicated that the Erie team will have speed to burn in the backfield and a fast charging line, according to those who have seen them play this year.

New Castle's "Red Hurricane" is going after its fourth win, and will have a hard time getting it if they can't match Erie's speed, it was indicated. Several lineup changes may be in effect on the New Castle team as they face the invaders, according to Coach Phil Bridenbaugh.

Need Better Balance
"I simply have to have a better balance backfield and may try out several different combinations this week," the "Old Fox" said today.

"With four tough games ahead of us, we cannot afford to take any chances," Bridenbaugh said. Academy, Clairton, Alhquippa and Warren will give us a lot of trouble.

New Castle flashed old time form last week in downing Farrell 22 to 0, and it is hoped that they can continue this kind of play. The old zip seemed to be returning last week.

Academy does not have a big ball club. New Castle will be able to hold their own in weight, but in the speed department Erie will have the edge. Bridenbaugh may rely on his passing attack again that clicked so nicely in the Farrell game for three touchdowns.

City Baseball Men Will Meet

City Leaguers Will Discuss 1947 Season Tonight, Elect Officers

City baseball league managers and officials will "jump the gun" tonight by staging a meeting at 8 o'clock at Carm's Place on West Washington street to discuss the 1947 season and elect officers.

The 1946 city league was a tremendous success through the efforts of the managers in cooperating with the league officials. The league, a 12-team affair, was run off smoothly and without a hitch.

Indies Champions
The Lawrence Indies were the 1946 champions, defeating the Universal Panthers in a great playoff series.

Manager George "Boss" Zidok will not doubt be back next year with a team that will battle all the way, just as they did this year.

Just how many teams will be in the league next year is not known, but by staging meetings every month from now until the season opens next April, the league will be ready for the opening "play ball."

All managers should attend the meeting this evening, also the league officers: C. P. Walther, president; Joe O'Leary, vice president; and Michael "Mike" Babovsky, secretary and treasurer.

Interest in the city baseball league will be kept alive here and next summer the fans are going to see a red-hot league.

Lee May Get In Marquette Game

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 16.—For the first time since the season started Pitt hopes to have an offensive backfield ready to throw against opposition—which this Saturday happens to be Marquette, making Lee May's first appearance in the Pitt stadium.

The boom in Pitt stock will place it Jack Smoed and Bobby Lee, crack tailbacks, can get through the week's practice. Coach Wes Fesler plans to give the pair a thorough test this week to see how much they have lost since forced to the sidelines by injuries three weeks ago.

Lee May Play
Smoed received a broken ankle the week before the Illinois game, and Lee went out in the first three minutes of that contest with a wrenched knee. Since that time the Panthers have been working with a patched up ball-carrying department.

If either Lee or Smoed is ready to start against Marquette, Fesler plans to shift Bill Bruno over to fullback from left half. Bruno, who started the season at quarterback, went to fullback before the first game and then filled in at fullback the last three contests.

Laura Still Out
There is a chance that Linda Laura, starting fullback for the first two games, might be back in this week. He has been out with a broken hand since the West Virginia game. Jack Banbury, second string wingback, out for the same time with a bum shoulder, is on the mend and may be able to go by Saturday.

The Panthers came out of the Temple game with no additions to the hospital list, and barring unforeseen accidents this week should be at their best thus far this year on Saturday.

Dorazio Guilty As Draft Dodger

Heavyweight Who Was Smacked Down By Louis In Two Innings, Loses To Uncle Sam

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Gus Dorazio, the Philadelphia heavyweight who lasted two rounds with Joe Louis, was smacked down by Uncle Sam Tuesday with a conviction no draft-dodging charges.

Federal Judge Guy K. Bard found Dorazio and a welding company executive, William J. Savage, guilty of conspiring to obtain an unwarranted draft deferment.

Both were released in $1000 bail pending a hearing December 2 on a plea for a new trial.

Dorazio was beaten by Arturo Godoy in October, 1941, and was dropped for the count by Louis in September, 1941. A foreman of the welding company which sought a deferment for Gus testified that the fighter did not work for the firm.

Bessemer Awaits Zelenople High

Crippled Bessemer High Eleven Faces Tough Battle Thursday Evening

Bessemer high is playing host to a tall Zelenople high team at 8 o'clock Thursday night. Being a night game it will be played on Bessemer's improved playing field, with lights, band, cheerleaders and all.

Last week Zelenople came within an ace of beating Union township, but Union came through with a 12 to 7 score. The week before Union won over Bessemer making it appear that this week's game between Bessemer and Zelenople will be very even.

Zelenople has a chance this year, to even the series with Bessemer. The two schools have played eight games with the first being a tie, twelve all. Of the remaining seven games Bessemer has won four and Zelenople three. The 1943 game ended with Zelenople defeating Bessemer 8-6. They won without making a single first down. Scoring on a 45 yard run and a safety.

Bessemer Crippled
In the Bessemer lineup, John Pezzuolo and Percie will be out due to injuries. Perrotti, who is better after having his back injured, will likely see action. He was in for two plays against Union and for nearly a quarter against Hickory high. Thirto who was not eligible to play last week, will be in tomorrow night. When he enters the lineup, Maier will shift to his own position of quarterback.

Zelenople will be fighting to make this four in a row. Vince, who didn't start but saw lots of action in the Union-Zelenople game, will be in the lineup when they go on the field at game time Thursday night.

Junior Elevens Await Big Game

Franklin And Washington Will Battle For City Title Saturday Evening

With interest at fever heat in both schools, Ben Franklin and George Washington, the young grid-ders are anxiously looking forward to Saturday night at the stadium under the lights for the championship battle. The kickoff at 8 o'clock will find a well filled stadium.

On paper, the Andy Comenich coached Franklin Patriots seem to have the edge being undefeated and undefeated on this year, rolling up 88 points to none for the opposition in three games, while Washington has won two and lost one—14 to 0.

Washington has scored 45 points and given up 14 in their three games. Galaxy of Stars

Both teams have a galaxy of stars. Franklin has Sallie and Sammy Keys as their big ones, while Coach Bill Douglass is counting on the Albin boys, Jimmy and Dick, to give Franklin a rough evening with their speed in the backfield.

Indicating a big crowd is the heavy ticket sale in both schools. The tickets went on sale Monday and have been snapped up quickly. The adult tickets, 35 cents each, will go on sale at 7 o'clock the night of the game, the adults sitting in the center of section 4 at the game, with the Franklin students in 5, 6 and 7, and Washington in 1, 2 and 3, with their cheerleaders. Student tickets are 15 cents each.

Union Favored Over Shenango

But Records Will Mean Little When Rivals Clash At Wildcats Field Friday

On the basis of performances this season, the Union high school "Scouties" should defeat the Shenango Wildcats Friday afternoon, but records will mean little in this game which is to be played at the Shenango field.

The triple rivalry, involving Shenango, Union and Bessemer, is one of the fiercest in this part of the state and when any two of them meet in any sport, the odds and the records books can be hoisted out the nearest window.

Scouties Win Three
Coach Dismore's Scouties have boxed over three of their five opponents this season, defeating George Junior Republic 14-6, Bessemer 7-0 and Zelenople 12-6.

Games were lost to Mars 13-0 and Evans City 12-0, a team that has air whipped Shenango and Bessemer.

After an illustrious season in 1945, the defending champion Cats have had dismal luck this season. Yet to notch a victory, the Nahans have been beaten by Mercer, 19-7, Avalon 19-0, Hopewell 29-0 and Evans City 6-0. Zelenople was tied, 0-0.

On the basis of comparison between the three schools, Union has the better record and having knocked off Bessemer, need only this victory over the Wildcats to claim the three-team championship.

Shenango Riddled
Adding to Coach Eddie Nahas' woes is the growing injury list at the Shenango school. In the bruising Evans City game more of his first string were forced from the contest with hurts, and they will not be in top shape for the Union set.

Kick-off for the tilt has been set at 2:30 p. m.

Sportsmen To Meet Thursday

George Bolinger, secretary, today announced the Lawrence County Council of sportsmen would hold a meeting at eight p. m. Thursday at the Y M C A. It is anticipated that there will be a good attendance.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

THERE should be a filled assembly room when members and friends of the New Castle Boosters club meet at 8 o'clock tonight in council chambers, city hall.

Norm Blintrin, lineman of the Bell Telephone Company, was atop a pole several years ago when a ringneck flew into the wires. He welded his pliers and got the bird. Report says that the price for future pole boxing shows will be carved. The top was $3.00, Monday night.

Michigan State plays the Military Lions at State College, Saturday. Pitt Panthers are entertaining Marquette. W & J plays Lafayette at Easton. Purdue tangles with the Buckeyes at Ohio State. Michigan hopes to bounce back with a victory over Northwestern.

Travis Jackson, star shortstop in the days of John McGraw and Bill Terry has been lured into the Giants coaching fold. Pittsburgh Steelers have played to more than 100,000 fans in their three home games. Jimmie Dunn, Cleveland, witnessed Monday night fights. Russell Baxter and Frankie Moran are training in Ellwood City for their Akron fight, Friday night. St. Nicholas girls intend to bowl this fall.

Twain's long until they'll be shooting ducks. Howie Pollet was supposed to be one of the majorities on a barn-storming trip for which he would receive $2,500. However, an injury to his side will keep him out of play.

A Garland of roses for Garf Ligo and his school workers for the fine job they did erecting the new electric scoreboard at Taggart stadium, lighted up for the first time last Friday. Robert Mills, new faculty manager of athletics at Senior high is doing a swell job handling all the details of the grid season. City league baseball managers and officials are meeting tonight to talk over the 1947 season, they plan big things next summer.

The St. Mary's church golf league champions will be dined at the Castleton in the near future, it was learned.

Encouraging news out of Pitt today is that Bobby Lee, stellar half-back from this city injured in the opening game with Illinois, may see service Saturday against Marquette.

Linda Laura of the New Castle fullback is still out however with a broken hand. What ever happened to the "magic eye" the high school was going to have this year? Johnny Kibane, former featherweight champion, is running for the legislature in the state of Ohio.

He formerly served a term in the state senate. Oklahoma A. & M. has a successor to the giant Bob Kurland, a lad who towers 6 feet 11 inches. Kurland, who has matriculated at the Oklahoma school, will play pro ball with the Phillips Oilers this year. Better plan to take in the Franklin-Washington embroglio at the stadium Saturday.

PROTECT YOUR CAR AGAINST CORROSION

There is only one of several actions trying to destroy your car underhandedly. The corrosive effect of road salts and the abrasive action of flying gravel are also extremely destructive. Even in normal times it would pay to armor the underbody of your car with 3-M Underbody Protective Coating. It is a hundred times more important today when so many metal parts are irreplaceable.

Newspapermen On Tour Of District See Many Uses For Electricity

There are only 724 farms of 9.419 in the area served by the Pennsylvania Power Company which have not been electrified but is anticipated that of the 724, 543 will request electricity because it not only does away with toil and drudgery but increases the productivity of farms and brings a financial benefit according to information gathered when newspapermen Tuesday.

The tour was to farms where the company's electricity has been supplied in sections of Butler, Beaver, Lawrence and Mercer counties and was in charge of Walter Gross and George Book, New Castle; Jack Thomas and Ralph Cumberland, Zelenople; Harold Rollinson, Sunbury, and William Richard and James Cleveland, all Pennsylvania Power Company attaches. They are all trained in the adaptability of electricity to farm work.

Demonstrations Given

Demonstrations of the how electricity is being applied were given. Hay is dried by fans operated by current, air compressors are operated, motors operate hay hoists, operate corn shellers, use of chicken incubators, dairy equipment, grain drying, automatic milkers; in fact, it removes toil and drudgery wherever there are electric lines.

At the farm of Carl Davidson, Evans City, R. D. 1, electricity is harnessed from a central distribution line. He has a portable motor which he uses to thrash. Hay is baled electrically, three tons to the hour. His work shop in which there are all kinds of gadgets necessary to making repairs are operated by electricity.

He has a motor connected to a blower for a blacksmith's fire and he has a freeze box, insulated, in which there are 300 feet of copper tubing, kept at a correct temperature by a 1/2 h. p. motor. A chicken feeder is operated electrically. Three chickens are plucked clean within a minute. In the barn automatic milkers are used.

Hay Drier

G. (Gabe) H. Thompson, Fomelle, R. D. 1, has had a hay drier in service two years. The motor which operates this is also used to hoist hay. Relative to the drier, it permits the cutting of hay and placing in a barn the same day and also permits the reduction of a higher feeder content and increase milk production.

A 5 h. p. motor is used to operate a 36-inch, six blade propeller which blows air beneath a false floor which has ducts and keeps the temperature at a proper degree. Pumps and equipment in the cooling system is also harnessed to electricity and "merry" line is kept steady.

Used Much Electricity

Floyd Byers, Petersburg, R. D. 2, has approximately 70 head of cattle which require considerable hay and feed, hence everything possible has been harnessed to electric. The 36x98 foot barn has 100 tons of hay, dried, likewise grain. An about 30 feet long, by his son, Raymond, at Mr. Jackson school. Conveys the baled hay to where it is to be piled systematically. He said the grain is also dried through the system, one of the most complete in this section.

Mixers and choppers are operated in the main barn and in the corn crib there is another elevator which carries corn to the sheller which is operated by power. He said that the corn is shelled as quickly as it is possible to shovel the corn. His other son, Robert, demonstrated the elevators in both the barn and corn crib after which Mr. Byers showed how electricity helps in the cold can storage room.

At Fruit Farm

How electricity aids in the apple industry was learned from Kenneth Betts, manager at the High Hill fruit farm at Pulaski. Electricity coupled to a three phase motor and the coil cooling system keeps the temperature at 34 degrees. After being gathered the apples are placed in what is termed an elevator but which may be understood more readily by calling it a conveyor.

The apples are carried through a box fitted with brushes. Every particle of dirt is removed in the box and the apple is carried on to the grader, all of which is operated by electricity. The shining apple drops through its proper slot into a basket, which when filled, is inserted in a basket and is made ready for the market. Mr. Betts said the 230 acres, 165 are in fruit, mostly apples and at present there are 5,000 bushels in storage with plenty of apples yet to be picked.

Aids Chicken Raising

How electricity aids chicken raising was seen at the Moreland Thompson, New Wilmington R. D. 2, hatchery. He even has lead cable charged, one end of which protrudes into drinking water for chickens freezing. It is used in the incubator house where 100,000 chicks are born in each year.

Electricity operates the egg cleaner and also the grader. Half a dozen or more eggs can be placed in the cleaner simultaneously. The eggs produced each day, and at the period they total about 2,000 a day from the approximately 5,000 are graded.

They are placed in a small conveyor which carries them to different points on the machine and they drop through various slots, are removed then taken to a cleaning machine which is also "electrified." More than a half dozen eggs are inserted in this machine simultaneously. Each egg is picked up by a gadget that resembles two spoons. Each egg revolves and when cleaned thoroughly are placed in boxes, thence in crates and are marketed.

The capacity of Mr. Thompson's incubator is 80,000. However, not that many eggs are put in the incubator at the same time. However, he produces about 100,000 annually.

At Moose Farm

At the R. N. Moose farm, Mercer R. D. 2, Mr. Moose and his sons demonstrated what is known as "milked milking." Of course, milkers are used. He washes the udder with warm water and massages it while washing. This is supposed to put Miss Bovine at ease and while she dines on feed weighed out, peacefully, via the milkers, surrenders milk. Two minutes time before the milker is attached must elapse. Mr. Moose stated. Two milkers can milk 29 cows in an hour.

Mixers, choppers and other farm gadgets are coupled to power. In fact, Mr. Moose, like the other farm-owners, use electricity in every possible way. It is used in the homes likewise and wherever there is a place for plugging in, various household electric can be served, for instance, electric irons, razors, heaters and whatnot. Coal oil lamps have disappeared and better lighting has resulted in better eyes and permits mother to sew without straining her eyes.

After the highly informative tour of the various farms one readily could understand why the farmer of today with electricity available has a good productive farm, can do his work with less help, escape the always recognized drudgery of the farm and banish the bugaboo "from sun up to sun down, back breaking labor" and to feel that with a drier in his barn there is lots less chance of combustion.

After the tour, the newspapermen from Butler, Zelenople, Greenville, Sharon, New Wilmington and New Castle were the guests of the Pennsylvania Power company at Schuster's near Greenville where a steak dinner had been prepared. The kitchen at Schuster's is in its entirety operated by electricity. Paul Dingley, assistant to Vice President and General Manager L. B. Round, made a few appropriate remarks concerning the tour, use of electricity after which Vice President Round spoke briefly.

He declared farming a bigger business than industry in Pennsylvania. He said the area is being well served and extension of service will equal requirements as fast as equipment becomes available. He said the company is proud of its record here and said that "we are proud of our record and only happy to show the farmer how he can use service to get away from toil, drudgery and bring beneficial results to him."

Forty-Five Granted Driving Privileges At Armory Tuesday

Eighteen New Women Drivers Are Granted Drivers Licenses; Ten Applicants Fail Tests

Ten would-be drivers of motor vehicles in the State of Pennsylvania, will have to take another examination if they are to be granted operators licenses it was proven, Tuesday at the State Armory, on Frank avenue, the scene of the weekly tests given by the Pennsylvania State police.

Out of 55 applicants, 45 successfully "made the grade" by successfully passing the rigid examination given by the officers in charge. Of the total number of new drivers in the city and county, 18 women were among the applicants who were handed their licenses.

Most applicants, it was learned, know their questions well enough and have practiced sufficiently before taking their test, but upon arriving at the scene develop a nervousness which many times causes them to fail the tests. ## Emergency Food Committee Gives National Report

National results of the Emergency food collection, which was handled locally by a committee under the chairmanship of Dorris Pulkman, include 308,432 cases of canned food valued at $1,335,510, according to an announcement received from the national headquarters of the emergency collection.

Total contributions in cash from all parts of the country have amounted to $3,078,000. Warehouse expense, packing, transportation, and so forth have cost $278,000, but these are the only funds used out of the cash contributions, leaving a total of $2,800,000, which is being distributed by UNRRA.

UNRRA originally furnished $500,000 for administrative expense, and up to date, $295,000 of this has been spent. There will be other administrative bills before final liquidation, but a substantial amount will be returned to UNRRA.

The announcement received locally was from National Chairman Henry A. Wallace and Executive Director Lee Marshall.

Slapsie Maxie Wins Decision

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom, Hollywood comedian-boxer, on Tuesday finally won a decision—in a Pittsburgh divorce court and with the full approval of Judge Walter P. Smart.

But this time Maxie was "referee" in a marital dispute. Maxie met an attorney who told him of divorce proceedings between Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Hail.

Maxie generously offered the couple a trip to movieland if they would reconcile. Today Mr. and Mrs. Hail called off their marital bout in a petition to Judge Smart.

They will fly to New York to meet Maxie and the three will travel to Hollywood.
